

A^c

A

A Venn diagram illustrating set notation. It consists of a large blue square representing the universal set, labeled A^c in the top-left corner. Inside this square is a white circle with a black outline, labeled A in its center. The blue area represents the complement of set A.